Welcome to our new premises - they're HEAVEN! Thanks to our vullie-workers for the wonderful paint job and so much hard work, and for putting up with the dis-organisation of QuIVAA throughout the moving ordeal. It's just starting to feel like home now and the Drop-In-Centre seems to be getting back to normal.

The last couple of weeks has seen QuIVAA reach, certainly all of my dreams, with us becoming authorized to distribute and collect fits. It's a very important component of user self-organisation and its been a long time coming. I'm glad to say that already we have some regulars!!! At the moment we are only operating 9 to 5 Monday to Friday, but HOPEFULLY we will receive some funding later this year and be able to expand our hours for you.

A big CONGRATULATIONS to the video team - the shooting of the clips is now completed!!!! Special thanks to Brad, Ray, Michael, Sally, Tasha, Andrew, Tracey, Kathy, Louise, Karen, Glenn, Janine, Tarn, Roxanne, Delli and I'm sure I've probably forgotten someone of mega importance, of course, Wendy. I know the project is not yet finished but already its a success simply because of the sense of community it has developed with all those who have participated. I know the end product is very important to every-one concerned but lets not forget that the journey to that point is also significant.

The Australian I.V. League (AIVL) is doing some pretty amazing stuff on a national level. The 2 workers commenced in April and have been quite berserk since. Yo, National Programs Co-ordinator and, Jacqui our Policy and Projects Officer are not only wonderful women but very talented as well. AIVL is in very good hands! I guess I should mention that I am now President of the League, and feel very honoured to hold this position.

Yo, is at the moment, travelling around the country visiting all the 'user' groups doing a needs assessment seeing what areas AIVL can assist in. She is also collecting information for a national resource directory which AIVL will be launching at the 4th National AIDS Conference in Canberra. This will be a directory that covers availability of needles and syringes in each State and Territory as well as other AIDS prevention and treatment information. This will be available to you when it is completed.

Hope your all getting organised to enter into the pharmacy logo competition? Closing date for entries is the end of July!!!!!!!!!!

I have to say a special thank-you to QuIVAA's fantastic photographer, Michael H. Your work is excellent and we appreciate it (especially me since I've hassled you so much lately about the slides.....)

Finally, there's alot happening at QuIVAA at the moment - a Dart News Team, a Streetwork Team, a Project Nocturnal Team and a Women and Safe Sex Team as well as drop-in-centre activities. To all the vullie-workers involved in these areas. I cannot thank you enough. Your fabulous work is what makes QuIVAA possible. Thanks gang - till the next edition of Dart News.....

luv,

Gen's-Day.

Hello everyone,
Well in August it will be a year since you voted in the QuIVAA constitution. This has meant that we have a legal structure to work from.

Recently the management committee and staff have felt that we need more input from our members on the day to day project decisions that are being made. As a result we spent a weekend all together nutting out how this can happen.

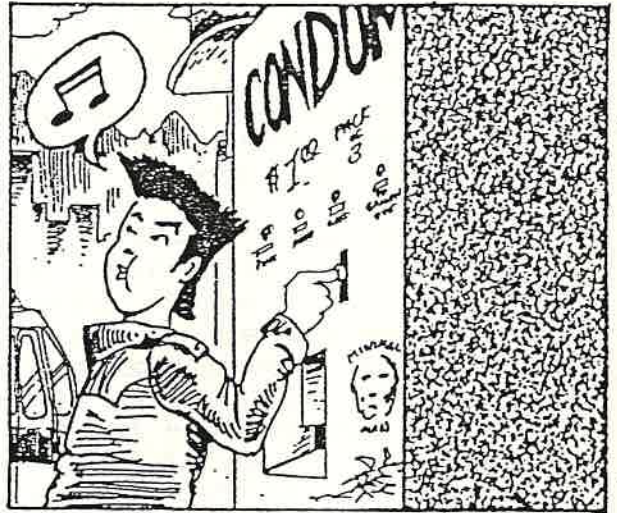

What we have come up with is a committee structure to deal with individual areas. These areas are:

Prevention education strategies;
Policy making,
Welfare strategies,
Funding,
Public relations and Special projects.

These committees need your support.
They will be made up of:

- 1. management committee member,
- 1 volunteer worker,
- 1 member,
- 1 staff member.

The committees will probably meet once or twice per month. They will deal with issues concerning each area. The committees will be supported by the co-ordinator (that's me Genevieve). I will let people know what the areas are that we need to address, arrange meeting times and inform members of the committee all the issues involved. If you are interested in any of these areas and want to make a contribution please ring me and I will give you the run down. The committees will be voted in at the Annual General Meeting on Friday the 24th of August.

This is a big chance to have a greater say into what QuIVAA is doing and to help the volunteer workers and the staff to do an efficient job. Please help if you can.

In other news sadly we are losing Lee, the administrator of QuIVAA. Lee has contributed greatly to QuIVAA since she joined us last year. We'll be very sorry to lose our earth mother. Good luck Lee.

Lee is not the only one to leave QuIVAA recently. We have also lost two of our founding management committee members - Tory and Adrian. Both of these people have given extensive support to QuIVAA since the beginning in 1988. We wish both of them well and cannot thank them enough for their input to QuIVAA. Good luck to Adrian and Tory.

Dear humans and who ever else!

Our video is going on at a faster pace than we ever anticipated. People have come and gone but the main players are enthusiastic as ever. At times we feel like pulling our hair out but we know that the end result will be worth it.

All the videos have been shot except for, "Aids! What is it." which is nearly completed.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Hi, just a note about the law and what you do with your life. I have just had the law for the first time in my life go my way. Now this is fact, I believe has some thing to do with what I am trying to do with my life.

The judge was very pleased to see and hear of the work I am doing with QUIVAA. He was very mad at my criminal record. But he said that the continual help from QUIVAA he can see I will get right out of this mess. With a reply from myself, "I said it took me 20 odd years to get this far down so it will not happen over night, but I am trying." With the help of friends I feel very comfortable of doing the things which I missed out on as a child. The Judge said he knew of QUIVAA and supports them by commenting on the good work they have been doing for young addicts and youth.

In general, he had no hesitation giving me this order. So once again guys and girls QUIVAA has made its mark in the courtroom and the community.

thanks guys, Ray

The other videos are at different stages of assembling and editing. This, surprisingly is the most difficult part. However the whole project has been a great learning experience for all of us.

There is no cure for AIDS so we are helping to prevent.

Luv Andy.

STREET WORK

Well the Street Work group is on its way at last. Things seem to be slowly but surely getting there. Due to commitments we are put back a week. I now feel really positive about this group. At present we have made some set rules for the protection of our selves and (clients if thats what we may call them just for now) the rules are just basic and common sense, so don't freak out them, O.K.

The meeting last Tuesday was very productive. We are in the process of designing cards, posters etc. Any new ideas are welcome for we need lots of input, in other words help.

At this point we need new members preferably street smart (users or ex-users) persons. We are meeting at QUIVAA on Tuesday nights at round about 7.30 p.m. or on Fridays during lunch time. At the moment we are all learning and acquiring basic skills on communication on personal basis and how to stay alive. We have a relaxation course before and after each meeting which is a buzz in itself.

We have only about four weeks to get it together, so if any one is interested please come along to QUIVAA and ask for B.J or Ray for information.

One more thing before I blow. Our aim is not to stop people from using drugs but to educate them on safe administration of drugs. Prevention is best when we have no cure for HIV.

So safe sex and safe needle use is all we can do to prevent of the Aids virus.

yours faithfully

A volunteer street worker

Ray.

EDITORIAL

Dear Readers

By now you have realised QUIVAA has moved from the valley to a larger premises at 3 Water Street Woolloongabba, to be exact.

The staff have called upon a group to put this newsletter together as they have done with the people involved in other special areas such as Street Work, Project Nocturne and the Workshops.

Let me tell you just a small story as to how I became involved with Dart News. A very good friend of mine has been working here at QUIVAA, I guess, since its inception, along with other dedicated people who won't be named. He has tried his hardest to get me here but I would say, "Sure I'll come along and see what it's all about."

Ha..... That's twelve months ago at least and now that I'm finally here. It isn't easy jumping in from the cold and being asked will you be or more to the point "you're on the newsletter team....."

"Am I?"

"Yep." So the Dart News family was put together in about five minutes. How can I wriggle out of this I thought. It just wasn't possible. So with a team of five (sometimes three or four wonderful people) we'll be endeavour to bring you not a paper of doom and gloom (but we have to have the serious and informative articles that will bring the readers up to date as to what QUIVAA is doing and where its heading) but some fun as well such as puzzles, games and the odd cartoon or two.

Being this team's first effort you will enjoy the hard work we have contributed. And by the way, we want people to contribute to Dart News or even if its just a gripe to tell us that some of the information is incorrect please do so. We would welcome any constructive criticism. This way we know at least some people are taking the time to read the contents of our paper. So please write. These contributions can be most helpful.

So if you wish to become involved with Dart News, do not hesitate to do so.

Address your material to,

The Editor,
Dart News,
P.O Box 644
Woolloongabba 4102.

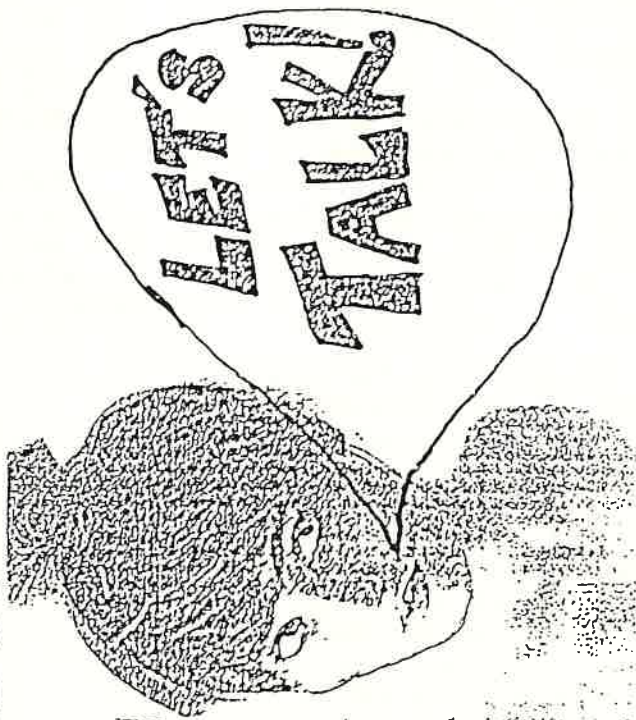

Thanks to all here at QUIVAA who have contributed. We aim to make Dart News better as each issue is released, which is will be bi-monthly.

Greg.

Education at QuIVAA

Gooday! Congratulation to our dedicated team of volunteers for this edition of Dart News. This is the first edition that has been done solely by members and volunteers. Boy have they been organised in getting us (the paid workers) moving in writing our articles. Some days it's like walking into the news room of the Daily Planet!

We at QuIVAA have been involved in the education of users since we opened. During this time we have constantly sought to improve our approach to education, [by seeking and listening to those involved.] For instance the AIDS workshop "What is AIDS" has been simplified and we now use slides to make it more active and fun.

The workshops are now being delivered by volunteers as well as staff. We are training people to help deliver the workshops if YOU wish to be involved in the next training course ring Colin or B.J. to get details.

The training includes facts on AIDS, communication skills, organising and presenting workshops. The training is for 2 hours a week over 6 weeks. It would be great to get new people involved.

The workshop group is planning to do a workshop on Safe Sex, and a workshop on attitudes to AIDS. We will advertise them soon.

HEPATITIS AND OTHER THINGS

In past issues of DART NEWS much has been said about HIV but not much has been said about other blood borne infections and other viruses spread through sharing and dirty hits. Some of these viruses are just as devastating and can be more contagious than HIV.

Perhaps the most devastating of these are three strains of hepatitis. Hepatitis B is highly infectious and according to the Chairman of the National Health and Medical Research Council's Committee on Communicable Diseases, Professor Clem Broughton, 'Hepatitis B is potentially a more serious public health risk than than HIV.'

Hepatitis B, like HIV is a viral infection but however attacks the liver rather than the immune system. The virus can also be transmitted sexually and it can act as a trigger for cancer of the liver in some cases. Anyway, the patient is often laid up for several months for convalescence and may become a carrier. A vaccine is available.

Two other forms of Hepatitis exist. The first, Hepatitis C, once referred to as Non A/Non B Hepatitis is less common than Hep B but never the less the strain is just as serious and damages the liver.

The other strain of Hepatitis which could affect IV users is known as Delta Hepatitis. This strain can only be contracted if the person has already has Hepatitis, rather like getting a double dose of the flu. However the victim suffers a long period of illness and the disease almost always results in death through a total break down of the liver.

A number of blood infections can result through unsafe needle and syringe use. These can make you very sick.

Septicaemia can be caused by a dirty hit where by bacteria has mixed with blood resulting in acute fever, sweating, rigors and a rapid rise in temperature. Endocarditis, an infection which effects the heart caused by the use of old lemons and stale vinegar used for dissolving substances.

Poor needle hygiene may led to other complications such as skin ulcers and lesions in particular a condition known as sinus where by a unhealed passage leads to an abscess under the skin.

In addition, according to the Albion st.(HIV)clinic in Sydney there is a high degree of S.T.D infection amongst IV users with more than 21% of those interviewed reporting a history of more than one sexually transmitted disease. Almost half (49.9%) reported that they have had contracted at least one S.T.D.

HIV is not the only thing one can pick up through unsafe sex and syringe use. Its O.K to have fun but remember to be careful. Always use a clean fit, use a clean spoon, filter and water and don't share them. When in romance, love safely.

If you would like to know more, QUIVAA conducts workshops usually on Friday afternoons and they are fun. Contact Colin, B.J or Mark at QUIVAA by phoning 844 7440.

Special thanks to the Needle Exchange , they are located on Alfred St. the Valley look for the logo. The exchange offers HIV testing and counselling.

Mark.

DROP~IN CENTRE

Drop in centre raves

The drop in centre is up and running again in our beautiful new premises. The badges and condom packs are being stockpiled for upcoming Project Nocturnes. The video groups are buzzing with excitement at the standards that have been achieved already. So look out Jean Luc Godard!!!!

The Thursday morning music workshops are currently building up a percussion band. So if you can count to ten come along and join in. Songwriting skills are being honed up as we still need ideas for at least two more sound tracks. All you need are your ideas and a bell, drum, tambourine, wooden clapper, pot or pan or anything that makes a noise when you strike it.

The patterns we need are floating around in the air, all we need to do is to play them!!!!!!

There will be lots of things happening at the drop in centre in the near future, arts and crafts, so stay in touch. Tasha and B.J.

PROJECT NOCTURN HAS GONE STATE-WIDE!!!!

Yes every one Project Nocturn has gone statewide!! As part of the national campaign (which is all those ads you've seen on T.V. about AIDS and needle and syringe use and safe sex) Project Nocturn is being done in Townsville, Cairns, Sunshine Coast and the Gold Coast. This is good for all the users that get the information and good for QuIVAA because it a recognition of our project being a good one.

For those of you who don't know what Project Nocturn is: it is a project where we go into night clubs and give out condoms and information about AIDS prevention. QuIVAA does this project about three times per month. It aims to get to users that aren't members of QuIVAA and that need the information we can provide.

Project Nocturn is run by volunteer workers and Janine a staff member of QuIVAA. We book the clubs and hotels that we know users hang out at. We then organise for 3 or 4 volunteers to attend with Janine. We go out at the time most suitable to the club, that being when they are busiest.

Project Nocturn is an area that we need more help with at QuIVAA. There are a variety of ways you can help. These include:

1. You can tell us of pubs and clubs that you know that users go to regularly. You can do this by phoning Janine or Genevieve at QuIVAA on 844 7440.

2. You can join the Project Nocturn team. This can be by helping us put together all the information needed for the Project Nocturns or by being one of the volunteers that do Project Nocturn.

If you do want to be a volunteer with Project Nocturn we will give you all the training you will need. This includes: an AIDS workshop that gives all the answers to questions you are likely to be asked. You will also be given a workshop on Project Nocturn. This covers stuff like role plays of approaching people and other good stuff about how to do Project Nocturn. All your questions will be worked on and answered before you go out.

At the first Project Nocturn you will not be expected to approach anyone but you can just spend the time with another volunteer worker or Janine until you feel confident about approaching people yourself. We will not send you to clubs that you don't feel comfortable in.

If you like music, nightclubs and people, then come along and have a great time talking to lots of different people, and do your bit to help people understand more about safe sex and safe needle cleaning practices. O.K. All you women out there, I need your help! I want to even the team up, at the moment the guys outnumber women 5 to 1. So all you night owls, male and female, if you want to join our possum patrol, DO IT NOW!!!!

Project Nocturn is an incredibly good way of getting to users. If we want to prevent the spread of the virus we have to get to the people like recreational users and make sure we reach them by going to places where they are likely to be. By doing this, we can also make them aware of services available to them, like QuIVAA.

Dear Quivva,

A Legal Seminar was held by S.Q.W.I.S.I. on the 9th of June 1990 Titled

"Prostitution Industry or Crime"

The keynote speakers were , Ms Kris Anderson, Co-ordinator & spokesperson for S.Q.W.I.S.I. , Professor Marcia Neave, from the University of Adelaide, Ms Bebe Loff, Health Dept of Victoria, Di Soon local Brisbane Solicitor, Mr Andrew Hunter from the SCARLET Alliance, Ms Cheryl Overs, founding member of the Victorian Prostitutes Collective and now residing in Paris, France. Ms Chris Richards from the Criminal Justice Commission and our own Kate Goodwin from S.Q.W.I.S.I. The seminar had an interesting flavour as there were representatives from the C.J.C. , the Brisbane Health Dept & concerned people ranging from the Gold Coast to Cairns. Oh! I forgot of course there was the ever ready presents of the now Famous or Infamous Brisbane Licencing Branch who saw fit to hang around the carpark sight seeing for awhile. One was adventerous in attending the seminar. We hope he now has a human side to him and can see what a victimless crime prostitution is. The most positive out come was our ressolution which was unanimously accepted by all parties present (Licencing Branch member did'nt object) and reads as follows:-

1. This meeting condemns the increased allocation of police resources to arrest and harass workers involved in the sex industry especially at a time when the Criminal Justice Commission is inviting public submissions on its research papers into prostitution law.
2. This meeting views with concern increased police arrest of sex industry workers as a deliberate attempt to take control of the debate relating to prostitution law change.
3. This meeting calls on the Minister for Police and the Commissioner for Police to grant an amnesty for charges of prostitutuion related offences to ensure that those involved in the sex industry can contribute to the law reform debate.
4. This meeting calls on Police Minister, Mr Terry Mackenroth to immediately make public any directions he may have given to Police Commissioner Newham on prostitution law enforcement pursuant to recently enacted Police Service Administration Act while law changes in this area are actively under Community consideration.

We wish to thank all Quivva members for their support when we need it.

LET'S EAT

MUFFINS

2 cups Quick oats
2 cups butter-milk

Soak the mixture overnight.

2 eggs
1 cup of brown sugar
1 cup of oil

Wisk and add to the mixture above.

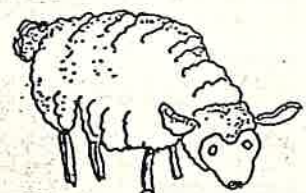

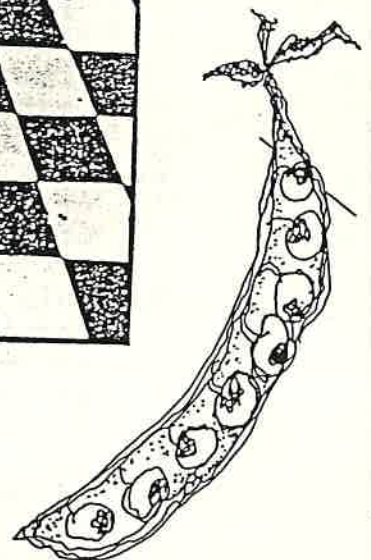

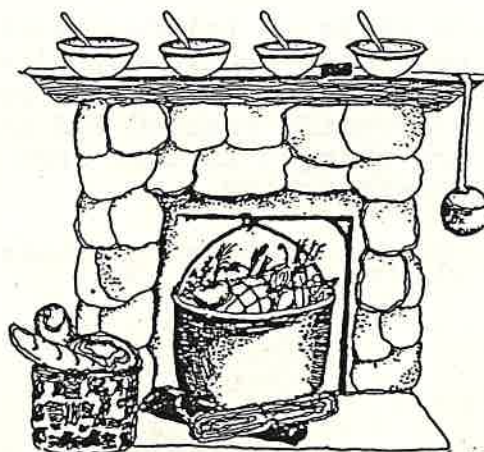

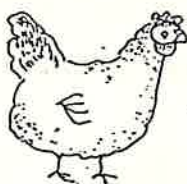

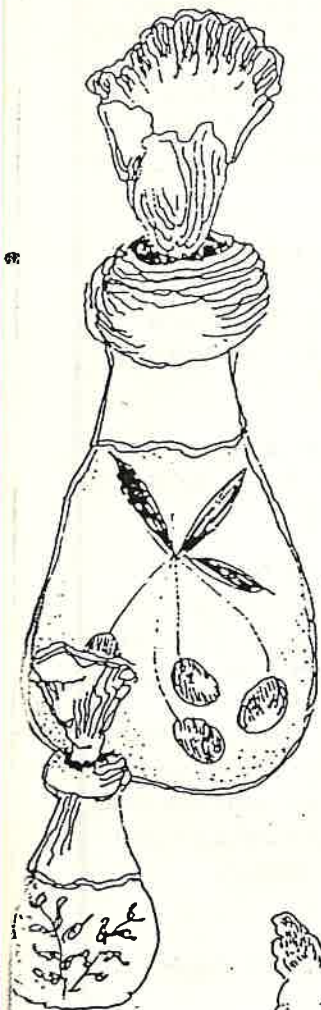

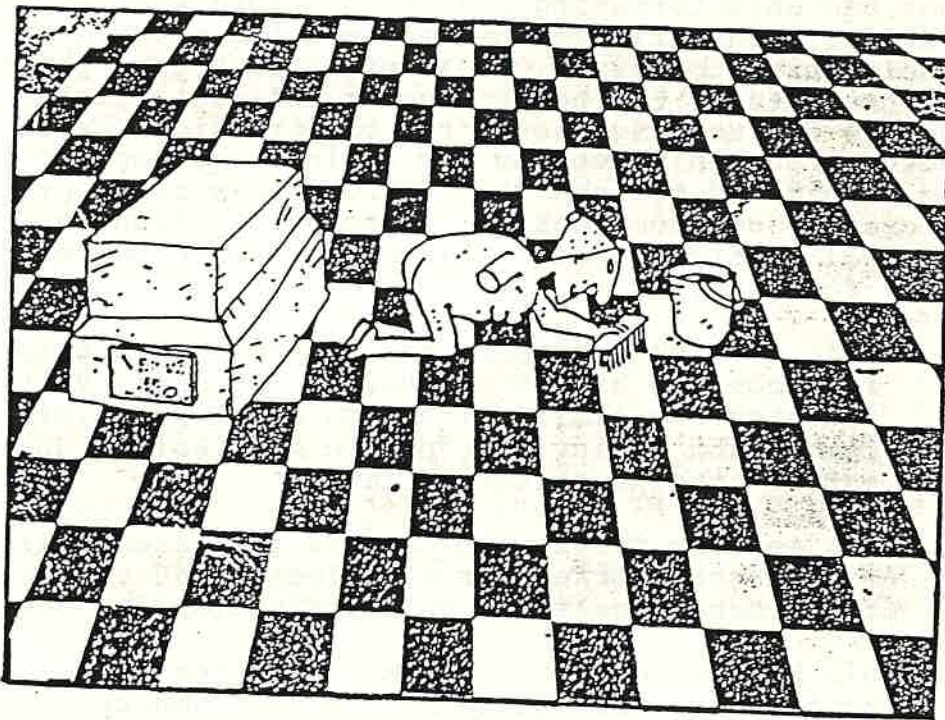

2 cups of wheat flour
1/2 tsp of salt
1 tsp of soda
1/2 tsp of cinammon
2 tsp baking soda

Sift, then add dries to the wet mixture.

Then fold in walnuts, bananas and sultanas.

Pre-heat oven to very hot 230 degrees C (gas 450 F). Lightly grease 36-40 muffin tins with a little butter and sprinkle lightly with flour (shaking out any excess). Spoon the mixture into a prepared muffin-tin and bake for 15 minutes, do the skewer test. Cool in tins for about 5 minutes. serve warm. Yummy?

THE JELLY-FISH

I do not wish to swim again today and have finished planting herbs that I tore from the road side.

Laying on my book to keep it open with a trowel with a handle made from a branch straight as a spear or as one would like a poem to go wood as used to kill or grow

The women in the shop yawns
"Tired or bored?" I say. "I have trouble sleeping." she replies and shows me on her arm a mark
a mirror of the same on mine.

We itch all through the night on the fifth day lumps come out rising like a map in reply to those on the other arm

This jelly-fish has marked us with its message from the sea
"If you swim here Greek or Australian you'll get the same from me."

Two birds are flying in the wind one imitates the other as the two marks on each women's arm.

No no I'm not going to mention stings again on mirrors as neatly as a good cork comes out or a spear that hits it's mark.

I defy you, the poem and the jelly-fish and march straight into the sea.

POEM

Well he knows the score - cause he's been there before and he knows that time its for real.

He's making love to his arm with that fatal charm and he knows just how it will feel.

To be driven insane for the search for a vein.

To feel that rush that will ease his pain.

But "* it all" I can hear him call, muttered from desperate pleas.

While death doom and gloom invades each separate room into the shrouds of darkness he can but perceive well sweet heroin, love and his life.

How well it does deceive.
But too late, too late he sees now his fate and now he clearly sees.

Death, doom and gloom is stalking only his room and now he O.D.s.
